Organized Democracy

An Introduction to the Study of American Politics

By FREDERICK A. CLEVELAND, Ph.D., LL.D. With Bibliographies and Index. Crown 8vo. Pp. xxxvi+479. $2.50 net. By mail, $2.66.

"A valuable work. It sums up the development of the rights of citizenship, the analysis of the incumbence of the power of the State throughout the ages, the statement of the qualifications for voting, and endeavors to describe the accumulation of regulations by which the citizen must be guided."—N. Y. SUN.

"A masterly book . . . comprehensive . . . never wearisome and always informative."—SAN FRANCISCO CHRONICLE.

Public Opinion and Popular Government

By A. LAWRENCE LOWELL, President of Harvard University. $2.25 net. By mail, $2.38.

President Lowell deals with the most difficult and most momentous questions of government—how to transmit the force of individual opinion and preference into public action. This is the crux of popular institutions.

"Lowell and Bryce are, in short, for the whole English-speaking world, the leading constitutionalists of the day. . . . It shows that Dr. Lowell may be placed nearly on a level—and no greater praise can be given to any man—with Bagehot. . . . A highly interesting book."—A. V. DICEY in the NATION.

Present Philosophical Tendencies

A Critical Survey of Naturalism, Idealism, Pragmatism and Realism, Together with a Synopsis of the Philosophy of William James.

By RALPH BARTON PERRY, Professor of Philosophy in Harvard University. 8vo. Pp. xvi+283. $2.60 net. By mail, $2.76.

"A great book. . . . Philosophical systems of every kind were, during the latter part of the 16th century, thrown into the melting pot. From the flux modern philosophy emerges, and it is at this point that Prof. Perry commences his very able volume. . . . Having had the immense advantage of personal contact with William James at Harvard he is better qualified to sum up the latter's philosophy than any other writer. His views concerning the man whom posterity will probably recognize as the greatest American philosopher are more than worthy of discussion."—N. Y. TIMES.

ARTHUR JAMES BALFOUR As Philosopher and Thinker.
Selected and arranged by WILFRID M. SHORT. 8vo. $2.50 net. (Postage 16 cents).

"A book of selections of the more important and interesting passages in Balfour's non-political writings, speeches and addresses, classified and arranged by his private secretary. They present a side of the man not usually known, and the style has delightful literary quality. As the sections from his philosophical writings are most characteristic and complete, the book will make its strongest appeal to the student of philosophy."—A.L.A. Booklist.

HEREDITY AND SOCIETY.
By W. C. D. WHETHAM and C. D. WHETHAM. 8vo. $1.60 net. (Postage 10 cents).

"In England the same general phenomena that strike us here are evident, and a eugenics movement has gained great headway there. Among the leaders in this 'movement' have been Mr. and Mrs. Whetham, whose 'Family and the Nation' has had a great influence. The present work is destined to play an equally important part. It consists of a series of thoughtful and interesting essays touching the biological aspect of the family. One cannot summarize the essays, and most of them are beyond criticism. They must be read. The two essays on the position of women contain much food for thought."—Science.

ORGANIZED DEMOCRACY.
By FREDERICK A. CLEVELAND, Ph.D., LL.D.

The theme of this volume is popular sovereignty. It speaks of a scheme of government in the nature of an incorporated trusteeship—one in which the officer holds the status of trustee, and the citizen is both principal and beneficiary. The closing pages discuss the momentous forces which are now at work in the United States to make the people as sovereign more forceful in the exercise of control over their government. The author's view-point is the present day concept that government should exist for common welfare. Crown 8vo. $2.50 net; by mail, $2.66.

THE FATE OF EMPIRES: Being an Inquiry into the Stability of Civilization.
By A. J. HUBBARD, M.D. 8vo. $2.10 net.

The turning point in past civilizations has been marked, again and again, by the appearance of Socialism coincidently with a failure of the birth-rate. During the lifetime of the present generation these two phenomena have assumed a more and more prominent position among the races of white men, and the author shows how critical the position of any civilization is when it reaches the point at which they are manifested. 8vo. Pp. xx+220. $2.10 net (Postage 12 cents).
